Amanda's Imaged Treatment Plan - Dental Ceramics

Dr. Truman uses Cosmetic Dental Imaging for diagnostic purposes, to help his patients to visualize the goals of a treatment plan, before treatment has actually begun.

Our Cosmetic Dental Ceramist also refers to this imaging when creating the ceramic restorations.

Imaging begins with patient involvement and approval and provides consensus for the entire dental team.

This unique step in treatment planning means that patients are more likely to receive the new smile that they want and expect.

Imaging is a digital visualization of a specific treatment plan. Changes to the prescribed treatment plan as well as technical or physical considerations will alter the final result and will not precisely match this computerized image.
